Because it is a work van, it is very stripped and minimalist. Compared even to more modern work vans, the amount of paint on the floor and doors of this 1962 Econoline is impressive. This suggests perhaps this van did not see a lot of rough service. It is equipped with a 3-speed column-shift manual, a heater, and a foldaway passenger seat.

The Ford E-Series (also known as the Ford Econoline and Ford Club Wagon throughout various stages of its production) is a range of full-size vans produced by the American automaker Ford. Introduced for the 1961 model year as the replacement for the Ford F-series panel van, the model line is in its fourth generation. Previously produced as a cargo van and passenger van, the E-Series is currently ...

Ford E-Series - Wikipedia

Econoline History. Introduced in the fall of 1960 as a 1961 model, the Econoline was unlike any truck previously offered by Ford. Mechanically based on Ford's compact Falcon line, the flat nosed Econoline was a light duty work truck that featured unibody construction and an engine located between and behind the seats of a "mini cab-over" design.
